

I'm appalled that stations are being forced to broadcast this special that is intended to hurt John Kerry's reputation. This is a campaign commercial; if it were a meaningful documentary, it could be run after the election.